

Integrated HIV Prevention-Care Planning Activities

This chart describes six types and levels of cooperation and collaboration on HIV prevention-care planning. The chart is intended to provide illustrative examples of integrated planning activities that involve HRSA Ryan White HIV/AIDS Program (RWHAP) Part A, Part B, and CDC HIV Prevention Planning Bodies and Grantees. The chart is non-exhaustive.

Type of Integrated Planning Activity	Explanation/Example	Examples of RWHAP Part A/Part B Program(s) Implementing This Type of Activity	Description Note: Examples provided based on available information as of 1/21/2014	Website Links
1 Information Sharing	Use of presentations, reports, webinars, conference calls, and other activities to inform each planning body about the work of the other	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Part A: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Baltimore, MD • Part B: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Maryland 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Baltimore, MD and Maryland: Representatives of the RWHAP Part B Grantee (which is also the Part D Grantee) participate at every meeting of the Greater Baltimore HIV Health Services Planning Council to report out on Parts B and D program activities as well as the work of the statewide HIV Planning Group. As frequently as every other meeting, they also provide presentations on the major issues that are impacting the HIV/AIDS services delivery nationally, as well as in the State and the EMA, e.g., implementation of health care reform, latest data on the epidemiological profile of HIV/AIDS in the state of Maryland, and the Baltimore EMA, goals and objectives of the Early Comprehensive HIV Prevention Planning (ECHPP) program. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Baltimore, MD: http://www.baltimorepc.org/v2/main/page.php?page_id=1 • Maryland: http://phpa.dhmdh.maryland.gov/OIDPCS/CHP/SitePages/md-prevention-community-planning-group.aspx

The collaborative efforts incorporate feedback/insight from consumers, medical providers, social service providers, and state officials. In addition, for the Illinois CAPUS grant, a joint “Linkage to Care Workgroup” was created to facilitate collaborations and data sharing among Care, Prevention, and Surveillance and to track collaborative outcomes through updates to the Illinois HIV Continuum of Care/Treatment Cascade. - Minneapolis/St. Paul and Minnesota: A joint RWHAP Part A, Part B, and Prevention EIIHA Workgroup was created in 2010 to develop recommendations for a coordinated strategy to identify, diagnose, and link to care HIV-positive/unaware individuals. The Workgroup includes representatives of RWHAP Parts A, B, C, D, and F grantees, consumers, and prevention and care providers.
- Tennessee: Statewide Prevention and Care planning bodies collaborate on needs assessment activities. Both bodies are involved in the development and implementation of the integrated CAPUS (Care and Prevention in the United States) program. The Prevention planning group is actively involved in the SCSN and development of the RWHAP Part B Comprehensive Plan.
- Texas: The RWHAP Part B agency, the Department of State Health Services (DSHS), has been working with all RWHAP Part A programs, the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, CDC and SAMHSA directly funded programs to improve outreach and testing to ensure that HIV-infected/individuals are identified, linked to care, and maintained in care.

State Office of AIDS and then to monitor the implementation and impact of this plan and revise accordingly.”

- Chicago, IL: The EMA has a combined planning body for HIV prevention (directly funded by CDC), and HIV care (under Ryan White Part A), and housing (with services funded largely through the Housing Opportunities for Persons with AIDS – HOPWA – program). It is restructuring its committees to align with the HIV Care Continuum.
- Connecticut: The state has an integrated planning body, the Connecticut HIV Planning Consortium (CHPC), which includes representatives from HIV Prevention, as well as RWHAP Part A’ , Part B, Part C and the two Part D Care Programs. It meets 6-8 times per year. CHPC has recently restructured the Data and Assessment Committee to allow for more comprehensive planning based on data collection and quality improvement. Its focus is on implementing a multi-year statewide needs assessment; creating, updating, and monitoring the implementation of a joint comprehensive plan; and implementing joint Prevention and Care quality management projects.
- Delaware: The Delaware HIV Planning Council has been an integrated prevention and care planning body since 2005. It is in the process of refining its membership and structure, and expects to be driven by the HIV Treatment Cascade and National HIV/AIDS Strategy.
- Iowa: The Iowa HIV Community Planning Group uses an ongoing and integrated participatory planning process to promote “effective HIV programming in Iowa in order to reduce the further spread of HIV infection and to provide access to services for those already infected.” Among its tasks are identifying unmet HIV prevention and care needs, prioritizing HIV prevention and care needs, and developing a locally specific prevention and care plan.

- Los Angeles, CA: In 2013, Los Angeles County integrated HIV prevention and care planning through a unified Los Angeles County Commission on HIV, established by county ordinance. Its planning encompasses HIV prevention (directly funded by CDC), care (funded through Ryan White), and STIs.
- Massachusetts: The Massachusetts Integrated Prevention and Care Committee (MIPCC) is an advisory body to the Office of HIV/AIDS for HIV prevention and care planning.
- Oregon: The Oregon HIV/Viral Hepatitis/Sexually Transmitted Infection Integrated Planning Group (IPG), of which the Part A grantee is an active member (but maintains its own distinctive Part A Planning Council), serves as an advisory group to the HIV/STD/TB Section of the Oregon Health Authority; roles include assisting with development of a statewide plan related to the intersection of HIV, STI and VH and focusing on access to services on a continuum from testing for infection of HIV, Viral Hepatitis and other Sexually Transmitted Infections to retention in care and treatment. The IPG meets 3-posting of documents.

- Wisconsin:

4 times per year and also has working committees including: Executive; Membership; Prevention of New Infections; Access to Prevention and Care; and Coordination.

- Pennsylvania: Pennsylvania's integrated planning body, the HIV Planning Group (HPG), was established in January 2013. It meets six times a year. In its advisory role to the Health Department, the HPG focuses on providing input into the development, implementation, and monitoring of: 1) HPG membership and the stakeholder engagement process; 2) a comprehensive and ongoing needs assessment process; 3) care service priority setting and resource allocation (utilizing the Part A model as a best practice); and 4) the Health Department's integrated Jurisdictional Plan (CDC)/Statewide Coordinated Statement of Need (HRSA)/Comprehensive Plan (HRSA).
- Vermont: A fully integrated advisory HIV planning group, the Community Advisory Group (CAG) provides input regarding HIV care and generates an Integrated HIV/AIDS Prevention and Services Plan, including ongoing updates. The CAG meets every other month; its committees meet on the "off" months. The CAB conducts needs assessments, including gap analyses and a resource inventory for services and prevention; plans and supports the prioritization of populations, interventions, and services; and advises on distribution of Ryan White and federal discretionary funds.
- Wisconsin: The Statewide Action Planning Group

(SAPG) is a joint Prevention and Care planning body. Since 2009, the SAPG has been developing a combined plan known as the “Wisconsin HIV Comprehensive Plan”. Beginning with the 2012 submission, the SAPG changed the name of this combined plan to the “Wisconsin HIV/AIDS Strategy.”

- In 2012, it helped create the “Wisconsin HIV/AIDS Strategy” – a planning document that meets CDC HIV July 2012 Planning Guidance and HRSA March 2011 Comprehensive Plan requirements.
